Special Dispatch From the Back 40

While most of you are thinking about the approach of the turkey-eating season I am wrestling with a federal report on my Back 40, the miniature game preserve behind my house.

Every year at this time I receive a blank form, Budget Bureau No. 43-R1063, from the Bureau of Sport Fisheries & Wildlife, Peachtree-Seventh Building, Atlanta, Ga. 30333.

The federalists know about my wildlife because I had to get a permit when I bought my original pair of Canada Geese several years ago. And once you're on a federal mailing list you can't get off.

What they want to know is, how many live migratory waterfowl do I now have, and how many eggs?

No eggs. But the bird count is this:

Canada Geese 9
White-Fronted Geese 1

I noted on the form that the breeding pair of Honkers are pinioned so they can't make sustained flight—but their seven offspring are free to leave, and I hope they do the next time the matted Honker fleet heads North, about February. What I want to test is the legend that a Honker always returns at least once to the place where he was hatched. I could expect my seven to bring in with them a yardful of Canadas—but I'll never know unless the rascals make their initial takeoff.

But the Brant won't go. She's a widow. Just for the record, she dropped in to visit with the Canadas one night, and stayed. But I hear by the grapevine she was found with a badly injured mate. Her mate probably disappeared in the direction of someone's kitchen, and the same folks quietly put the hen over the fence into my Back 40.

Here's an odd fact about wildlife. You would think a wild Brant goose would take up with the wild Canadas, but not so. Instead, she shuns the Canadas and sticks close to my pair of white domestic geese, of the Emden variety, I believe.

When I had only the original pair of Canadas the boss pair were the white domestics, the Emnden gander running about 25 pounds, against a Canada's 18. The domestic geese ate first, and brooked no interference—jerked at the tail feathers of anyone beating them to the corn trough.

But when the Canadas produced four goings in 1971, and another hatching this year to bring the Canada army up to 9, matters changed instantly. Now it's the Canadas who eat first, and the white domestics and their Brant crony take the second table.

This is known in poultry circles as "the peck order." And it exists even among the Canadas. The old Canada gander frequently yanks the tail of one of his own offspring who has the audacity to try and be first at the feed-trough.

For several years I had a dozen or more Mallards, but the Canadas were so much better entertainers I gave away the ducks.

Now, when the corn is running low in the feed-trough the whole goose population peers through the fence and watches the house—and the first time a door is slammed they sound off in a single chorus, wildlife and domestic.

Six train cars derailed

Six train carloads of paper from Vallant, Okla., were derailed here yesterday (Tuesday) afternoon. Missouri-Pacific crews worked into the night to unload the cars and repair a 100-yard stretch of track broken away from the crossties when the cars derailed. Several cars leaned precariouly toward a deep ditch at the side of the railroad tracks in the photo above. A railroad crane was brought to the scene late yesterday to right the cars. No explanation for the derailment has been given, and no injuries were reported.

Inmate testifies Britton struck him when captured

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An inmate at Tucker Intermediate Reformatory said Tuesday that Robert G. Britton, Tucker superintendent, struck him three times when he was captured last year after failing to return to the prison from a work furlough.

Britton testified Monday that he had struck Cox with his open hand, but said he had done so only once or twice.

The testimony came during a hearing being conducted by U.

S. District Court Judge J. Smith Henley in order to check into conditions at the state's prison farms.

Cox testified Tuesday he was captured in a rice field between DeWitt and Stuttgart, and that he was spread-eagled on the ground and stripped for a search. He said he was being walked — naked and with his hands handcuffed behind his back — toward a prison car when Britton arrived and struck him three times — in the face, side of the head and on the back of the neck.

Britton said Monday he came up to Cox as he lay on the ground, fully clothed, just after the capture. As Cox' hands were being handcuffed behind him, Britton said, Cox tried to get up. Britton said he "cuffed" Cox "once, maybe twice" on the shoulder blade to make him lie down.

John Burrow of McCrory, a former Tucker farm manager, testified Monday that Britton struck Cox several times, but that Cox was face down on the ground at the time.

Maj. James E. Chambers, chief of security at Tucker, testified that Britton used only the force necessary to make Cox lie down when he tried to get up. Chambers said the blow was struck with the open palm of his hand.

In other testimony, Alvin Higgins, 22, acting minister of the Black Muslims at Tucker, said Tuesday members of the Islamic faith were refused permission to hold religious services in the prison chapel.

He said that on one occasion a Black Muslim newsletter was confiscated as contraband and destroyed by prison officials.

Denies group use of chapel

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Alvin Higgins, 22, acting minister of the Black Muslims at Tucker Intermediate Reformatory, said Tuesday members of the Islamic faith were refused permission to hold religious services in the prison chapel.

Higgins, serving a prison sentence for burglary and grand larceny from Pulaski and Miller counties, said there had been a "direct and deliberate attempt to prevent inmates from holding Islamic religious services."

He said that on one occasion a Black Muslim newsletter was confiscated as contraband and destroyed by prison officials.

Higgins testified during the second day of hearings before U. S. District Court Judge J. Smith Henley, who is conducting the hearing to determine whether living conditions in the state's prison have been corrected as ordered by him in February 1970 and December 1971.

Higgins also testified that he and other members of the Black Muslim faith could not eat much of the food served in the prison cafeteria because it was cooked with pork or pork fat.

He said members of the faith were forbidden to eat pork or food prepared with pork fat.

Statement not policy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It is not FBI policy to gather names of persons attending Black Muslim services in jail or out, the FBI office in Washington said Tuesday.

Robert Britton, superintendent of Tucker Intermediate Reformatory, testified in U. S. District Court in Little Rock Monday that a list of names of persons attending Black Muslim ceremonies at the institution was given to the FBI at the agency's request.

Roadwork on State 195 approved

Ward Goodman, director of State highways, has authorized a work order to begin on State Highway 195 in Hempstead County.

Construction work will begin at the intersection with Highway 73 in Crossroads and extend northeasterly, generally along existing roadway, to near the city limits of Washington, a distance of approximately 3.4 miles.

The project consists of 3.4 miles of grading, minor drainage structures, cement stabilized base, double bituminous surface, one reinforced concrete slab span bridge (75-foot span), one quadruple reinforced concrete box culvert (23-foot span), erosion control and miscellaneous items on the Fulton-Washington road.

R.H. Davis Construction Company, Inc. was awarded the federal-aid contract for the low bid of $222,494. The contract also requires the work be completed in 110 working days.

J.E. Belknap is the resident engineer who will represent the Highway Department in a supervisory capacity.

Bumpers not involved in ouster move

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers insisted Tuesday that he was not party to a move to oust Jean Westwood as national Democratic party chairman.

Acknowledging that "new leadership" was required to unify the party, Bumpers reiterated that Mrs. Westwood should resign, but he would not say what course of action he would favor if she refused to leave voluntarily.

Bumpers made the remarks on his return from the meeting near Washington Monday when he and four other members of the Executive Committee of the National Democratic Governors Caucus called for Mrs. Westwood to resign. Bumpers is caucus chairman.

Bumpers was asked Tuesday by reporters to explain an apparent disparity between his statement Monday and his remark last Thursday that he was not part of an ouster movement.

"Last week I said I was not part of an ouster movement — I was not then and I am not now," he replied.

Bumpers said he had called Monday's Executive Committee meeting to work on the agenda for an upcoming meeting of the caucus and not to deal with the Westwood issue. But he said that, for the assembled reporters, the governors expressed their opinions as individuals. He said they were not speaking for all Democratic governors, although he said he expected the caucus to take a position on the chairmanship at its meeting next month.

"It was my feeling that this party needs to be unified," Bumpers told Capitol reporters. "I believe it is fairly fragmented now."

"I feel the party can be united and many disenchanted segments and sections of the country can be brought back into the mainstream of the party. But I personally feel that new leadership will be required."

He said Mrs. Westwood had been "perfunctorily" elected chairman because she was the choice of the Democratic presidential nominee, Sen. George S. McGovern, and that it had been tradition for the party chairman to offer their resignations when the nominee lost.

Most Democrats wary of shakeup

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nationwide sampling of Democratic party leaders shows most are wary of any sudden shake-up in party leadership, particularly the firing of party chairman Jean Westwood.

For the time being at least, most are inclined to heed George McGovern's advice to wait.

Mrs. Westwood, McGovern's personal choice for national chairman, has become the center of a struggle for party control in the wake of McGovern's landslide loss to President Nixon in last week's presidential election. She has said she will not step down voluntarily.

But Tuesday McGovern advised caution in overturning either the party leadership or the controversial party reforms for which he is largely responsible.

"It would be a mistake to do things so quickly before final assessments of the election are completed," McGovern said at a news conference in the Virgin Islands where he is vacationing.

An Associated Press survey of Democratic governors, congressional delegations and local party officials revealed a general feeling that some changes are needed but no consensus on what they should be.

Of some 100 party leaders surveyed, the biggest bloc gave a "no comment" or "undecided" reply to questions on Mrs. Westwood's future. But many of those now undecided might make up their minds before the first showdown Dec. 9 when the Democratic National Committee meets.

And of the leaders willing to declare themselves at this point, those against Mrs. Westwood outnumbered those defending her.

Former party chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien emerged as the candidate most frequently mentioned to replace Mrs. Westwood if she is ousted.

New record of sales set on NY Exchange

NEW YORK (AP) — Amid cheers on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange, the Dow Jones industrial average closed above 1,000 points for the first time in history on Tuesday.

In the aftermath, Wall Streeters are asking themselves what the long-term consequences would be.

"Do investors who have been waiting for this historic level now start selling off and taking profits, or does the event increase investor enthusiasm?" asked Robert Johnson of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis.

"This could be the great incentive for the small investor to come back into the market," said Edward A. Merkle, president of the Madison Fund.

The Dow average of 30 industrial stocks closed at 1003.16, up 6.09 from Monday's close of 997.07, the previous record. The universally watched indicator has now set records in three sessions in a row.

The New York Stock Exchange Index, a much broader gauge of market activity than the Dow, since it includes some 1,400 common stocks, also set a record Tuesday. It closed up 44 at 62.84, erasing the old high of 62.52 set Nov. 3. Standard & Poor's index of 500 stocks also hit a new high, 114.95.

Last Friday marked the first time the Dow has ever exceeded 1,000 points at any given moment during trading.

But four additional times in 1966—on Jan. 18 and 19 and Feb. 9 and 10—and again Monday, the official intraday high of the Dow was over 1,000. The official figure is derived after the close of trading, using the individual highs of each of the 30 component stocks, even if those highs were achieved at varying times.

The fact that the 1,000 level had been approached so many times and never surmounted at a day's end had created an aura of impenetrability around it. That aura may now be evaporated.

There was a great deal of selling Monday and Tuesday, but buyers moved into pick up the flood of shares.

Equipment buildup continues in VN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon sources say the United States has turned over more than 600 planes and helicopters to the South Vietnamese Air Force in its effort to build up the force before a cease-fire.

These sources report the rush buildup of South Vietnam's military equipment, principally for its air force, is just about complete.

That speedup was set in motion late last month, shortly after it was disclosed by both North Vietnam and the United States that a tentative cease-fire agreement would, among other things, bar introduction of military gear on either side except as replacements.

The North Vietnamese also were reported gearing up an effort to push more equipment and materiel to the Communist forces in South Vietnam before a cease-fire.

Pentagon officials said the more than 600 additions bring the South Vietnamese air force to nearly 1,850 aircraft and helicopters.

This is short of Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's goal, which had contemplated a force of about 2,100 by the end of next year, if the war continued without a cease-fire.

But the South Vietnamese air force still will be one of the biggest in the world.

The more than 600 planes and helicopters flown into South Vietnam from the United States and allied countries were transferred from U.S. stocks in Southeast Asia and are estimated to be worth more than $300 million.

In addition, millions of dollars worth of ground-force equipment has been flown to South Vietnam and nearly 30 tanks have been shipped by sea from repair depots in Japan. Most details on ground-force materiel furnished to the South Vietnamese during the rush effort were not disclosed.

Fragging suspect released

FT. ORD, CALIF. (AP) — Billy Dean Smith, free after being cleared of murder charges in the first "fraggings" court-martial conducted in the United States, says he is "just lucky to be here."

The 24-year-old black from the Watts district of Los Angeles explained, "If the trial had been held in Vietnam, something would have happened very bad."

"Not everybody is lucky enough to have a trial," he told newsmen after his acquittal here Tuesday.

A military jury of two black and five white officers deliberated for five hours before finding Smith innocent of two charges each of murder and attempted murder and one charge of assault with intent to do bodily harm.

All stemmed from a fragmentation grenade blast at Bien Hoa Air Base in Vietnam that killed 1st Lt. Thomas A. Dellwo of Choteau, Mont., and 2nd Lt. Richard Harlan of Dallas, Tex., and wounded 1st Lt. Peter B. Higgins of Harrison, N.J., on March 15, 1971.

Dellwo died on the day he was scheduled to leave Vietnam.

Windfalls may be invested

WASHINGTON (AP) — State and local governments are expected to increase investments in U.S. savings bonds and Treasury bills with the first portions of their federal revenue-sharing money.

Treasury Department officials say there is nothing in the law to prevent state and local governments from, in effect, lending the money back to the federal government at interest through the purchase of federal securities.

Health care plan given

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A special committee, under orders from Gov. Dale Bumpers, presented a primary health care plan to the governor Tuesday.

Bumpers told the group Sept. 13 to give him a plan within 60 days. The governor earlier had expressed frustration over the failure of the state's Comprehensive Health Planning Program to produce a state plan for health.

Implementation would cost the state about $59.1 million and the federal government about $91.5 million.

The plan calls for extending services and training programs of the University of Arkansas Medical Center to hospitals out in the state, developing an

McG: No knowledge of hospitalization

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern says through a close friend he had no knowledge of Sen. Thomas Eagleton's hospitalization for exhaustion before selecting the Missouri senator as his running mate and is surprised at a report his top aides learned of it earlier.

The Associated Press learned in a series of interviews that McGovern aides became aware of the matter while checking rumors Eagleton had a drinking problem, reacting with relief when the latter proved untrue.

Henry Kimelman, McGovern's finance chairman, told a reporter Tuesday night McGovern heard nothing of the Missouri senator's medical record until after the Democratic convention ended.

Earlier that day, however, two McGovern aides, Gordon Weil and Frank Mankiewicz, had discussed it with Eagleton's administrative assistant. Mankiewicz said they didn't tell McGovern until later because "it wasn't a serious problem" at that time.

In Kansas City Tuesday night, Eagleton said that, if McGovern's top aides knew of his medical history, "they sure didn't let me know about it."

"My only contact with Frank Mankiewicz about the second spot was the 35 seconds I spent on the phone with him after Sen. McGovern called me to be his running mate," Eagleton said. "Mankiewicz said 'no skeletons rattling around in the closet, right?' and I said 'right.'"

Eagleton was in Kansas City to address a convention of The Associated Press Managing Editors.

"I discussed the problems with everybody who asked about it and I leveled with them," Eagleton said. "That's my question about this story. If they knew about all of this before the convention, why didn't they come to me with the reports?"

"I would have said, 'That's right, the reports are true. That's the way it is.'"

Both Mankiewicz and Douglas Bennet, Eagleton's top aide, agreed that the Missouri senator never mentioned his treatments had included electric shock until nearly a week later, after McGovern's aides had learned of it from the same anonymous tipster who had given the story to a Knight Newspapers executive.

Return planned

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina's military government is closing down all public, industrial and commercial activities Friday in an attempt to avert disorders when former dictator Juan D. Peron returns.

Mass gatherings have also been prohibited. But many thousands of Peron's followers were expected to defy the ban and assemble at the airport to welcome him home.

Peron, now 77 but looking 10 to 15 years younger, flew from his home in Madrid to Rome Tuesday on the first leg of his return. He said he was going back after 17 years of exile "to see if I can bring some peace" to "the traditionally rebellious people of Argentina."

RAP:

I hope this letter keeps others from making my mistake.

I dearly loved a guy my folks hated. He wanted me to run away with him when I became 18, but I wouldn't hurt my parents, so I begged him to wait and try to win them over. I'm seventeen and three-quarters.

I guess he got tired of waiting. I went to visit relatives for a few days and when I returned I learned he had married another girl.

Girls: follow your heart. You have to live with the hurt after he's gone—not your parents. I can't sleep thinking of how I missed my big chance.—DOOMED OLD MAID

DEAR DOOMED:

You missed a big "chance" all right, all right! Any guy who marries another girl while his steady is on a few days' vacation is a pretty chancy character.

Maybe by next year you'll agree with me and your parents: This is one loss that made you a winner!—HELEN D.O.M.

"Doomed Old Maid" at seventeen and three-quarters? Bul-l-hunky!

Sure it will hurt for a while, but start signing yourself "B.I.C." (Back in Circulation) and you'll be surprised how fast it comes true.

P.S. Parents hardly ever

"hate" a guy without some kind of good reason. (You're welcome, Mom.)—SUE

Ladycats win opener

By RICKY FAWCETT
Star Sports Writer

The Hope Ladycats opened their 1972 season with a bang last night by whipping Spring Hill, 59-34. Also playing were the B'Bruins and the Eighth Grade Boys. The Bruins rolled over their opponents, 63-54, while the eighth graders dropped a tough 30-19 decision.

The Ladycats opened up early and carried a 14-6 lead after the first quarter. Janet McCain scored ten points in the second quarter as Hope led 26-12 at half.

The substitutes played most of the second half and the Ladycats chalked up their first win of the season. McCain led all scorers with 26 points, while Donna Whitley led Spring Hill with 19.

The B'Bruins, under first year coach Bill Barnes, then took the court.

David Rushing pumped in four quick points for Spring Hill. However it was a seesaw battle throughout the first period as Spring Hill led 17-13 at the end of the quarter.

At the close of the second quarter, Mike Howson of Hope sank six straight points and Hope had a 33-21 halftime lead.

Clay O'Steen led the Bruins in the second half with 11 points as Hope hung on to win 63-54.

Rushing led all scorers with 22 points and Hobson scored 19 for the Bruins.

In an earlier game, Bill Hamilton popped a 20 foot jump shot at the end of the first overtime period to give Spring Hill a 30-29 victory over Hope's eighth graders.

Clifford Coleman scored 14 for Hope and Roger Burns popped 9 for Spring Hill.

Thursday the Ladycats and Kitty Cats will play Bradley in Bradley.

Cougars blast Squires

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thirty-five points, eleven rebounds, five steals and two blocked shots.

Billy Cunningham is having a ball in the American Basketball Association.

Cunningham, a new member of the Carolina Cougars after several years in the National Basketball Association, continues to come through with all-star performances in the ABA.

Cunningham's big game Tuesday night helped Carolina blast the Virginia Squires 127-118. The star forward also boosted his scoring average, fourth best in the ABA at nearly 26.

In the other ABA games Tuesday night, the Denver Rockets ripped the Indiana Pacers 118-108 and the San Diego Conquistadors topped the Utah Stars 122-111.

In the NBA, it was: New York 103, Phoenix 97; Golden State 114, Atlanta 106; Baltimore 104, Houston 103; Kansas City-Omaha 106, Buffalo 100; Chicago 97, Seattle 80; Los Angeles 95, Milwaukee 92 and Portland 100, Cleveland 91.

Carolina broke open its game with Virginia with a 14-4 spurt behind Cunningham late in the fourth quarter that gave the Cougars a solid 113-103 lead. Virginia could get no closer than seven points after that.

Julius Erving led the losers with 23 points and 16 rebounds.

Warren Jabali hit two baskets in the closing minutes and Denver held off a rally by Indiana to beat the defending ABA champion Pacers. Ralph Simpson led the Rockets with 25 points.

Sparked by Chuck Williams' eight points in the final eight minutes, the expansionist Conquistadors won their first ABA game from Utah.

Razorback's attitude 'great'

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said Tuesday that the Razorbacks' attitude in preparing for Southern Methodist "has been great."

Arkansas plays SMU Saturday at Fayetteville.

"They've taken to learning the details and paying close attention to what we've been trying to teach them," Broyles said of the Razorbacks.

He said quarterback Joe Ferguson was expected to return to practice today.

Darrell & the Bear:

Mutual respect

DALLAS (AP) — The Cotton Bowl will be at second-ranked Alabama Saturday with pen and paper and high hopes of signing the unbeaten Crimson Tide for the New Year's Day guest spot.

Field Scovell, president of the Cotton Bowl and co-chairman of the election committee, and Wilbur Evans, another CB official, will be on hand as the Crimson Tide meets Virginia Tech.

Should seventh-ranked Texas clinch the Southwest Conference title in its meeting with Texas Christian and should Alabama whip the Gobblers there's ever indication Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant would like to take a crack at beating a Darrell Royal-coached team.

Bryant is 0-2-1 against Royal and Scovell says "Darrell and the Bear have a lot of respect for each other. They're good friends. I believe we stand a chance of getting Alabama."

Of course, other things enter

Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl teams are announced

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The Knoxville Journal reported Wednesday morning that Tennessee has decided to play in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston Dec. 30 and that the opponent would be Colorado.

The Journal, in a story by sports editor Ben Byrd, said a Tennessee spokesman had informed officials of the Liberty Bowl in Memphis that the Vols would play in the Astro-Bluebonnet bowl. Liberty Bowl officials had sought Tennessee to defend its bowl title won last year in a 14-13 victory over Arkansas, the paper said.

Tennessee's decision, the paper said, came after a hectic 24-hour period of jockeying during which time Gator Bowl officials settled on Auburn for one of its spots in their Dec. 30 afternoon game in Jacksonville, Fla.

The paper said Tennessee's decision came after consulting with team members. Bowl invitations can not be extended until after 6 p.m. Saturday.

Crosstown rivals meet to settle championship

NEW YORK (AP) — UCLA, which got caught looking ahead to Southern California and lost to Washington last Saturday, hopes to catch top-ranked Southern Cal looking ahead to Notre Dame this weekend.

The crosstown rivals meet in the Los Angeles Coliseum, which serves as home field for both, to settle the Pacific-8 Conference championship and the host berth in the Rose Bowl.

Southern Cal holds a one-game lead and a UCLA triumph would deadlock the race ... and send the Bruins to Pasadena by virtue of having won the head-to-head confrontation.

UCLA is second nationally in rushing with 361.2 yards per game and ninth in total offense with a 422.7 average. Southern Cal stands fifth in that category with a 450.0 average.

But it is on defense where the Bruins really shine, holding their foes to 215.3 yards per game (fourth best nationally), 75.2 on the ground (No. 1) and 9.7 points (No. 6). Trojan Coach John McKay says the defense deserves three-quarters of the credit for the No. 1 ranking.

The pick, then, is a defensive one ... Southern Cal.

Last week's score was 42 right—including the Upset Special, Michigan State over Ohio State—20 wrong and one tie for .677. For the season, it's 406-161-12—718.

Virginia Tech at Alabama—If ever a team could be expected to look ahead, this is Alabama's turn. The Crimson Tide is coming off an impressive and emotional victory over Louisiana State and their next game is the finale with hated Auburn. Virginia Tech is only 5-3-1 but the Gobblers boast the nation's total offense and passing leader in Don Stock. The Tide secondary will get a workout but winning is the primary thing. Alabama.

Purdue at Michigan—More look-ahead possibilities. Will Michigan be looking ahead to Ohio State next week? If so, a Purdue win would throw the Big Ten race into at least a two-way tie between the Boilermakers and Wolverines, depending on what Ohio State does. Michigan.

Texas at Texas Christian—TCU bombed 18th-ranked Texas Tech last weekend but Texas is a Longhorn—and a ranking (seventh)—of a different color. Texas.

Georgia at Auburn—Auburn was the only team to beat Georgia last season. This year it's been done by Tulane, Alabama and Tennessee ... and now Auburn.

Mississippi at Tennessee—Both teams had last week off, but have the Rebels recovered from that heart-breaking last-second loss to LSU? Not likely. Tennessee.

Dick Allen, AL's most valuable player

NEW YORK (AP) — Broad-shouldered Dick Allen, the muscle of the Chicago White Sox offense, was named today the American League's Most Valuable Player of 1972.

Allen won the coveted prize in a landslide vote from the Baseball Writers Association of America, receiving 21 out of a possible 24 first-place votes.

The White Sox's star first baseman, who slugged a league-leading 37 home runs and knocked in a career-high 113 runs, won the trophy easily over outfielder Joe Rudi of the World Champion Oakland A's.

Allen, playing in his first year in the American League after several years in the National, was the only player named on all 24 ballots. He finished with a total of 321 points, just 15 points shy of a perfect score, while runner-up Rudi collared 164.

Rudi, the A's leading hitter with a .305 average, was named on 22 of 24 ballots.

Sparky Lyle, the left-handed relief ace of the New York Yankees, who saved 35 games and won nine during the 1972 season, finished third in the voting with 156 points.

Allen, Rudi, Lyle and pitcher Mickey Lolich of the Detroit Tigers, who finished 10th with 60 points, were the only players to receive first-place votes. Rudi, Lyle and Lolich got one each.

After the 1-2-3 finishers, the rest of the top ten MVP players were: catcher Carlton Fisk of the Boston Red Sox; outfielder Bobby Murcer of the New York Yankees; Cleveland pitcher Gaylord Perry; pitcher Wilbur Wood of Chicago; pitcher Luis Tiant of Boston; shortstop Ed Brinkman of Detroit's East-winning Tigers and Lolich.

Allen is only the second White Sox player to win the award. Nellie Fox was the other in 1959.

Playing with his fourth team in as many years, Allen was obtained by the White Sox from the Los Angeles Dodgers in a trade last winter. He received a $60,000 bonus to sign his first pro contract with the Philadelphia Phillies and was traded to the St. Louis Cardinals after a controversy-marked career.

Allen stayed only one year with St. Louis before being traded to Los Angeles. He was gone after one year there, too.

Allen, who on occasion missed games with his three previous teams, was punctual all season for Chuck Tanner, the White Sox manager who is a close family friend. Allen played in 148 straight games at Chicago until Tanner dismissed him with six games left in the season and the White Sox out of the AL's West Division race.

Super salaries for superstars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rick Barry, Jerry West and Walt Frazier. Those are three of the superstars in the National Basketball Association who get paid super salaries to break open games.

And that's exactly what they did Tuesday night.

Barry sparked a fourth-period rally to help the Golden State Warriors defeat the Atlanta Hawks 114-105.

West poured in 15 of his 26 points in the last period as the Los Angeles Lakers trimmed the Milwaukee Bucks 95-92.

And Frazier fired in 32 points as the New York Knicks clouted the Phoenix Suns 103-97.

Golden State was trailing 88-84 going into the final period before Barry took charge. The brilliant forward hit a 20-foot shot with four minutes left to give the Warriors a never-headed 101-100 lead.

Powder puff game slated

By LESTER SITZES

Hammons Stadium, 7:00 p.m. Saturday, is the setting for the 8th Annual Powder Puff Game, a rivalry that is sponsored by the Hope High School Student Council.

Swapping places with the boys, senior and junior girls will be pitted against each other on the gridiron while being cheered on by not-so-feminine cheerleaders and a topsy-turvy band.

The senior girls who lost last year as Juniors, hope to carry out their plans of revenge upon this year's underclassmen who will undoubtedly try their best to land the seniors a surprise package of their own.

Providing the halftime entertainment will be the band, led by boy majorettes, who will perform a routine to the tune of "Make Me Smile."

Backing and cheering the teams will be male cheerleaders who will undoubtedly have an overbearing effect upon the outcome of the game.

Senior beauty Joe Mac Young and junior beauty Jack Still will reign over the festivities. Tickets will be sold at the gates at 75 cents for students and $1 for adults.

High school predictions

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The number of unbeaten high school teams in the state was cut in half last week. A further reduction may be in order Friday night.

The only three unbeaten teams remaining in the state—Magnolia, Marked Tree and Greenwood—will compete this week in the high school playoffs.

Last week, Hot Springs, Forest City and Murfreesboro were dropped from the unbeaten ranks.

Friday night, Magnolia meets Sheridan in the semifinals of the Class AA playoffs; Greenwood plays Prescott and Marked Tree meets Clarendon in the Class A playoffs.

Magnolia crushed Hamburg last week and Sheridan slipped past Morrilton 10-7 in the first round of the AA playoffs.

Sheridan will have a difficult time stopping Garnett Smith and Johnny Hayes. Smith scored three times and Hayes twice in the Panthers' victory over Hamburg.

Magnolia is the top-ranked team in AA and intends to continue sitting on the lofty perch. MAGNOLIA 21, SHERIDAN 10.

Greenwood slipped past Berryville last week with a touchdown in the final minute and will have its hands full with the Curley Wolves.

Jerry Fiemons rushed for 205 yards and scored three times and Ronnie Johnson hooked up with James Langston on three long scoring passes in Prescott's 39-14 romp over Little Rock Robinson.

Greenwood has found a way to win every week. GREENWOOD 14, PRESCOTT 13.

Marked Tree regained its unbeaten status late last week when U.S. District Court Judge G. Thomas Eisele ruled that Marked Tree should be allowed to represent District 3A in the playoffs. The Arkansas Activities Association had ruled that Marked Tree had used an ineligible player in the 3A championship victory over Beebe and had to forfeit the game.

Eisele said, however, that the AAA had violated the rights of James Beebe by declaring him ineligible.

Marked Tree then won by forfeit last week when Lepanto refused to play. The Indians have something to prove and aren't apt to give up their unbeaten status easily.

MARKED TREE 20, CLARENDON 13.

Last week's record was 15-7, setting the season's percentage at .724.

Here are other playoff predictions: Newport 21, Harrison 13; Danville 13, Farmington 7, and DeValls Bluff 14, Magnet Cove 13.

Here are other predictions involving AAAA and AAA schools:

LR Catholic 27, NLR North-east 18; FS Northside 13, FS Southside 10; Sylvan Hills 20, Blytheville 13; Forest City 27, LR McClellan 21; and Springdale 13, Russellville 7.

Statistics tell the story?

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Statistics tell the story ... or do they?

Tony Adams of Utah State is second in the nation in total offense and passing offense. The name of Alabama's Terry Davis is nowhere to be found among the leaders.

Still, the two quarterbacks were named co-National Backs of the Week today by The Associated Press for their performances last weekend.

—Adams completed an incredible 30 of 43 passes for five touchdowns and a national record 561 yards in Utah State's 44-16 rout of arch-rival Utah.

—Davis hit on 10 of 18 passes for 157 yards and two touchdowns and carried 15 times for 92 yards and one TD as he directed second-ranked Alabama's Wishbone to an impressive 35-21 triumph over previously unbeaten and sixth-ranked Louisiana State, giving the Crimson Tide their second consecutive Southeastern Conference crown.

Adams, a 6-foot, 195-pound senior from Riverside, Calif., has had quite a career this month. One week earlier, he connected on 32 of 47 passes for 406 yards and five touchdowns against Idaho, including 13 completions in a row.

Adams has completed 182 of 304 attempts this season for 2,486 yards and 20 touchdowns, but the most impressive statistic just may be his mere eight interceptions.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — J. Bennett Johnson, elected Louisiana's junior U.S. senator in the Nov. 7 general election, has been appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late Sen. Allen J. Ellender.

Also on Monday, Gov. Edwin Edwards announced that his wife, Elaine, would step down as interim senator. Edwards appointed her to the post following Ellender's death late in July.

The appointment of Johnston, a 40-year-old Shreveport attorney, will give him seniority over nine other freshman senators elected last week. They will not begin to accrue seniority until they are sworn in when Congress convenes in January.

In the best of all possible worlds South will manage to make six no-trump. He will grab the first heart and take a successful club finesse. Then he will knock out the ace of spades and run off good tricks.

This will only bring him to 11 but in Utopia the defense will collapse and somehow or other he will make the 12th trick with a low heart or diamond.

In this mundane sphere South had best settle for nine or 10 tricks. He should start by ducking the first heart but will have to win the second.

He should note from the play of the hearts that West holds at least four cards in that suit. Therefore, South can afford to let West get in right away but he can't afford to let him get in later on.

If West holds the king of clubs he can't score with it, but if he holds the ace of spades there is no way to take that trick away from him.

Therefore at trick three South should play his king of spades. If West takes his ace his tooth will have been pulled. South will win the next heart; lose the club finesse and make four no-trump.

If West ducks the first spade South should abandon the spade suit. He should go right after the clubs and be sure of his contract against any and all card combinations.

U.S. planes pound N. Vietnam's panhandle

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. planes gave North Vietnam's southern panhandle its hardest pounding in months Tuesday and today, hitting at the supply buildup there with more than 300 fighter-bomber strikes and more than 30 B52 missions.

It was the largest number of fighter-bomber strikes against North Vietnam in a 24-hour period since Oct. 14. But the 320 strikes flown then were spread over much of the country, while those on Tuesday were concentrated in the southern third because of the suspension on Oct. 22 of bombing above the 20th parallel.

The escalation of air attacks on the panhandle began Nov. 9 and in six days U.S. fighter-bombers have made more than 1,200 strikes in the region, an average of more than 200 a day.

GO FOR 64

NEW YORK (AP) — Jules Padell, owner of the Copacabana, which is marking its 32nd anniversary, was asked what he's going to retire.

"I've decided to go for 64," the 72-year-old cafe boss quipped.

"This is to let North Vietnam know that as long as the war is not over, as long as it has troops in the South, we're not going to hold back," said one American official.

Officials said North Vietnam is making a "substantial" supply push southward through the panhandle to stockpile material for its divisions in the South before a cease-fire, and U.S. bombers are making "a greater response."

"We are trying to get every logistical point that is directly connected with the movement of supplies toward their forces in the South," said one official. "They are trying to increase their supply flow to their forces in the South."

The U.S. Command reported heavy damage to North Vietnam Tuesday, with 38 supply trucks, 11 warehouses, 15 bridges, 20 railroad cars, and nine artillery guns destroyed or damaged.

U.S. military sources said the B52 raids in the panhandle have been "real effective." One source said a mission two days ago set off 60 secondary explosions, indicating that a big ammunition dump was destroyed.

North Vietnam's Foreign Ministry claimed that in the last three days American planes had heavily bombed the Do Luong dam and hydroelectric plant in Nghe An Province and had carpet-bombed towns and villages in civilian areas across five North Vietnamese provinces.

The statement, broadcast by Hanoi Radio, said damage and casualties were particularly heavy in the town of Ha Tinh.

Meanwhile, the United States continued its own supply buildup to beat the cease-fire, and the 7th Air Force announced as many as 350 large U.S. transport planes have brought in 7,000 tons of equipment for the South Vietnamese armed forces in the past two weeks.

Martin Dies Sr. is dead

LUFKIN, Tex. (AP) — Martin Dies Sr., who hunted subversives in government during seven stormy years as the first chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, is dead at 71.

His death Tuesday night was attributed to an apparent heart attack. Dies first suffered such an attack five years ago.

Apollo 17 astronauts begin preflight medical isolation

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)

The Apollo 17 astronauts begin three weeks of preflight medical isolation today while launch crews start the final major rocket and spaceship tests for a Dec. 6 blastoff to the moon.

The isolation, in which the astronauts' movements and contacts are restricted, is to minimize exposure to disease or illness that could delay the last mission in the Apollo series.

Early today the launch crew began a week-long rehearsal duplicating every phase of the final countdown starting Nov. 30. The initial part of the test is to end next Monday with a simulated liftoff at 9:53 p.m. EST, the departure time on launch day.

Next Tuesday, with fuel drained from the rocket as a safety measure, Apollo 17 astronauts Eugene A. Cernan, Dr. Harrison H. Schmitt and Ronald E. Evans will board their command ship to run through the final 2½ hours of the countdown.

Starting today the astronauts and their backup crew are restricted to three areas at the Kennedy Space Center—the crew living quarters, the training building and the launch pad. They also will make one or two trips to nearby Patrick Air Force Base for proficiency flying in jet planes.

During this period, only 100 persons, mainly training and launch personnel, are authorized to work directly with the spacemen. Many will have minimal contact and some none at all unless necessary.

The wives of Cernan and Evans are included on the list and will be permitted to visit their husbands in the crew's quarters when they travel to Cape Kennedy four days before the launch. Cernan's and Evans' young children will be permitted to talk to their astronaut fathers through a glass partition.

Schmitt is not married. The astronauts and authorized contacts have provided detailed medical histories, submitted to medical examinations and have been immunized against nine common diseases.

The preflight isolation was initiated after Apollo 13 crew member Thomas K. Mattingly had to be replaced a day before launch because he had been exposed to German measles.

Key Clubbers are guests at Kiwanis Club

Mike Waters, Mike Downs, and David Bain, Key Clubbers, presented the program at Tuesday's Kiwanis Club meeting. They were introduced by Kiwanis Key Club Committee chairman, E.P. Young Jr.

David Bain reported on the Key Club fund raising venture this past summer. They manned the Kiwanis-built concession stand that serves both K. Park and Key Field. Bain reported a net profit of about $300.

Mike Waters reported on projects completed and those planned for the remainder of the school year. He also named the new members of the Key Club who will be initiated December 4-8. They are Sophomores Larry Butler, Willard Wilmon, Eugene Tyree, Tony Yocom, Mike Butler, Don Still, Tim Boyd, and Ricky Price. New members from the Junior Class are Lance Beard, Jack Still, Steve Allen, Randy Hollis, Donny Hughes, and Rusty Pendergraft.

Mike Downs, Key Club President, brought an inspiring message concerning the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. A Huddle Group, the chapter name at the high school level, has been organized at Hope High School with Bill Burnett, former Razorback star who is now heading FCA in Arkansas, assisting in the organization. The adult advisor, anchor man or chaplain, is Kiwanian Jon Leim, with the member coaches assisting him. Local officers are captain, Paul Bazar, Captain-elect, Harold Collins, secretary, Thomas Williams, and treasurer, Mike Waters. The Hope Huddle Group has asked Melvin Weston and Mike Downs to serve as program chairmen.

The purpose of FCA is to make better Christians, better citizens and better athletes through a proper relationship with Jesus Christ.

The local Huddle Group has set up goals for the individual members and for the group. The individual goals are, 1. To know that you are a Christian, 2. To learn to witness for Christ with ones life, 3. Have a real fellowship with each other and to love others, 4. To be available, and 5. To support and be active in your own church.

The group goals are, 1. To pray that every athlete shall know Christ, 2. To evangelize Hope High School, that every student shall know Christ, and 3. Be available.

Downs stated that their Huddle Group meets each Friday afternoon at 2:15 p.m., and that the meetings are open with visitors welcome to attend.

KEY CLUBBERS WATERS, DOWNS AND BAIN, AND KIWANIAN YOUNG

As a general rule Birth easier in younger women

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Dear Dr. Lamb—Is it true or an old wives tale that babies born to women in their change of life are mentally deficient? I was born when my mother was 42 and approaching her change. After the birth of my last child (a 10-pounder), the doctor ordered a diabetes test and I was told that I had a tendency to become diabetic. Would this affect the problem that I always bleed too much (after childbirth and operations)?

Dear Reader—It is true that if you take a group of babies born to older women, as opposed to a group of babies born to younger women, that there will be a few more abnormalities in the babies of older women. This does not mean, however, that because a person is born to an older woman he will necessarily be mentally defective or have any problems.

Nature planned things so that women have an easier time with birth and a greater likelihood of a normal birth in their earlier years.

One theory that has been advanced for this is that at birth a woman has all of the basic cells to form all of the ova (eggs) that she will release in her lifetime. Thus, when she gets to be 40 years old, the egg that matures for pregnancy is considerably older than the egg that was ready for pregnancy when she was 20 years old. This same problem doesn't occur in men, since each one of the sperm cells is a newly formed cell and therefore is always young.

A high percentage of women who give birth to large children do have diabetes. Most doctors test all women, who birth a large child, for diabetes.

Being a diabetic would not affect the bleeding tendency.

ency. This is an entirely separate matter, related to blood-clotting mechanisms.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Is leukoplakia a term that is synonymous with cancer of the mouth or is it only a condition that may lead to cancer? Is there any relationship between leukoplakia and leukemia? Also, is there any danger of transmitting leukoplakia from one person to another through use of silverware and other eating utensils?

Dear Reader—Leukoplakia means a white plaque. It is somewhat like a scarred area composed of fibrous tissue. It usually occurs because of an injury, for example, chronic irritation in a pipe smoker or because of changes in the skin associated with metabolic differences. You can have a leukoplakia on the mouth or lip and leukoplakias can also occur elsewhere, for example in post menopausal women over the external genital area.

They are not cancerous, but a reasonable number of these, particularly on the lip, that reflect chronic irritation can subsequently develop cancer. A cancer is merely a change in cell growth that is out of control and the cell growth mechanism literally runs wild. Leukoplakias are often considered as "pre-cancerous." For this reason, some doctors like to remove them. Leukoplakia of the lip of this sort has no relationship to leukemia and leukoplakias do not transmit any diseases. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

INNOCENT LOOKING TOYS CAN BE DANGEROUS

Even the most innocent looking toys are potentially dangerous in the hands of the wrong child.

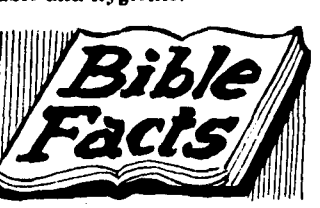

That's the basic message from Food and Drug Administration toy safety experts who are trying to reduce the number of toy injuries in the United States, a figure put at 700,000 annually by the government.

Some stuffed animals can be easily taken apart by a child—exposing dangerous wiring underneath. Check for unprotected wiring around the ears, arms and legs before purchasing such a toy.

Happily, thanks to the FDA, consumer groups and concerned manufacturers, toys are, in fact, safer than ever—but there are ways to keep the accident rate down.

The most important factor is parental supervision. Whether children are playing indoors or out, alone or with others, they must be watched. Choice of toys is a key to safety too. Select toys suitable for a child's age, interest and abilities. Keep in mind younger brothers or sisters who may have access to toys bought for older children. And, check labels on fabrics. Choose items with non-flammable, flame resistant or retardant fabrics and stuffings marked washable and hygienic.

Luke wrote in the Bible that "Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven." (Luke 6:37)

St. John once said: "If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins He is faithful and just, and will forgive us our sins and cleanse us from all unrighteousness."

New pharmacy opens

Registered pharmacist Leif Lorenz, at left, recently opened the Medic-Aid Pharmacy, above, on West Third here in Hope. Lorenz recently moved here from Little Rock. His store is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Mrs. Joanne Buckley is employed as a clerk in the pharmacy.

Medic-Aid Pharmacy opens here

The Medic-Aid Pharmacy at 318 West Third St., here in Hope opened its doors last week. Registered pharmacist Leif Lorenz, formerly of Little Rock, will be on duty to serve customers. Mrs. Joanne Buckley of Hope has been employed as a clerk in the pharmacy.

A 1970 graduate of the University of Arkansas School of Pharmacy, and a member of the Rho Chi pharmaceutical fraternity, Lorenz invites all local residents to stop in the pharmacy and get acquainted. His wife, Sally and son Leif Jr., will be moving to Hope in the near future.

The pharmacy has plenty of parking space and is located in a completely remodeled building which contains 1,100 square feet of floor space.

Ghost towns are disappearing

BODIE, Calif. (AP) — Ask a ranger where to find one of California's ghost towns these days, and he's likely to look you over pretty closely. He may look you over when you come back, too. Or he might just refuse to tell you at all. The problem is: California's ghost towns are disappearing piece by piece into the backs of campers, four-wheel drive vehicles and even helicopters. "Up in Boulder Flat, someone hooked a four-wheel drive vehicle onto the porch of one of the log cabins and jerked it away from the building," said Lee Symmonds, historian of Mono County, in east-central California.

"It used to be that people hiked or drove into these places to take a few pictures and to poke around a bit. Most of them still probably do. But every year we see more and more vandalism," he said in an interview.

One reason is the soaring market value for antiques such as bottles, kerosene lamps and miner's tools.

Symmonds said he once caught thieves dismantling a gold mill that had been donated to the Mono County Museum.

Burglars took $2,000 worth of artifacts from a miner's museum, "the small items like whisky bottles, mustache cups and an opium scale, that have a high value and are easily sold," said Clyde Newlin, a district supervisor of the California Division of Beaches and Parks.

The Claraville Cemetery in the Piute Mountains was torn up, said Richard Bailey, Kern County historian. "They left the bones scattered all over the countryside."

Officials said one team of pot hunters, as they are called, hired a helicopter to get into the rugged canyons of the Inyo Mountains. They practically dismantled one entire town.

Even the curiosity seeker who considers himself innocent may be breaking the law, officials say. He picks up an old bottle or a wheel that appears to belong to no one, and this is theft. If the land is public, it is protected by the 1906 Antiquities Act. If it is private, state theft laws prevail.

Rocky Rockwell, a ranger at Inyo National Forest, won't even tell newsmen where the ghost towns are.

"I'd like to, but I just can't," he said. "The pot hunters might find the place if you write about it, and then they'd dismantle it, piece by piece by piece."

Nice to know

NEW YORK (UPI)—A food and Drug Administration FDA order that went into effect in August bans a chemical preservative used in some wines, beers and non-carbonated soft drinks.

The chemical, diethyl pyrocarbonate (DEPC), is suspected of producing a cancer-causing substance. The recent evidence: that DEPC can combine with ammonia in beverages to produce urethan, the cancer-causing chemical. It has yet to be proved that urethan is produced in any product being sold, according to a report on this development in "Consumer News." That newsletter is put out by Mrs. Virginia H. Knauer, the president's adviser on consumer affairs.

A good yellow streak CHICAGO (UPI)—Not enough people see red.

That's the reason one major manufacturer of fire trucks is now turning out highly visible lime-yellow ones. Ward LaFrance Truck Corp. started painting fire engines lime-yellow after scientific tests showed the color is more visible day or night than the traditional red. The National Safety Council reports this break from the accepted red.

Barzel trying to get elected in Germany

BONN, Germany (AP) — The stocky, balding man at the microphone listens smilingly to the jeers and catcalls mingling with the applause that wells up from the crowded hall.

"Just carry on like that," says Rainer Barzel. "You cheer me up. You're going to help get me elected."

A roar of appreciative laughter and clapping drowns out the catcalls.

Barzel is the Christian Democratic party's candidate for chancellor. He is challenging Willy Brandt in next Sunday's election. At 48 he is 10 years junior to Chancellor Brandt.

Some of the long-haired youngsters in jeans and sloppy windbreakers wear "Willy Waehlen"—elect Willy—but-tens. They try to drown out Barzel's words with rhythmic clapping and chants of "Wi-ly, Wi-ly, Wi-ly."

The interruptions give him an opening for retorts which rally audiences to his side. They also let him accuse Brandt's Social Democratic party of being dominated by its Marxist-leaning youth wing. The charge seems effective among Barzel's conservative middle-class supporters.

Barzel's rapid climb to prominence is almost unequalled in West German political history. But though he has made his mark as an extremely capable politician, he trails Brandt in personal popularity. One reason, Barzel's critics say, is that the rugged, chancellor makes a warmer, more authoritative impression.

Barzel was the son of a schoolmaster in Braunsberg, now part of Poland. He ended World War II as a navy flier lieutenant and gained a law doctorate from Cologne University.

He entered politics in 1949 after starting a civil service career, and first gained notice as an ardent anti-Communist. He founded a "save freedom" group in the '50s which accused hundreds of intellectuals of being Red.

Barzel got a Cabinet post at 38, serving a year as minister for all-German affairs under Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. He became parliamentary floor-leader of his party in 1964 and made his mark as a tough organizer and tactician.

There were some setbacks. He backed Ludwig Erhard for the chancellorship in 1969 when word went out that Konrad Adenauer was thinking of stepping down. The old chancellor changed his mind, leaving the Erhard-Barzel faction in the cold.

Barzel was crushingly defeated in a 1966 bid to be the party's candidate for chancellor.

He finally made it a year ago when the party elected him chairman in place of former Chancellor Kurt-Georg Kiesinger.

Party members longingly remember the undisputed sway it held under Adenauer, revered as West Germany's founding chancellor.

There is speculation Barzel may not last long if he fails to reinstate the party, which lost to Brandt's coalition in 1969 after 20 unbroken years of rule.
